

You're Invited:

Opening Ceremony for the Nisenan Tribute Site

The Nisenan Tribute Site, including the Angkula Seo Bridge, is the newest addition to Nevada City's Deer Creek Tribute Trail system.

When: Tuesday, October 28, 2014
11:00am - 12:30pm

Ceremony begins at 11:30am, including ribbon-cutting by California Secretary of Resources John Laird

Where: Nisenan Tribute Site, Nevada City

Appx. 20 min. walking distance from downtown Nevada City

Walking Directions:

- Starting at the Miners Foundry in downtown Nevada City (325 Spring Street), walk on Bridge Street along the west side of the Miners Foundry and then turn right on Factory Street.
- Walk west on narrow, winding Factory Street, which becomes Wyoming Street, and then continue left onto Old Downieville Highway.
- After walking approximately two thirds of a mile from the Miners Foundry, bear left on Champion Mine Road.
- Shortly after turning on Champion Mine Road, signs with the Tribute Trail logo will direct you to a dirt single-track trail on the left.
- Follow the trail down the switchbacks and you will arrive at the ceremony site.

Partners: This project was led by The Sierra Fund, and made possible by the collaboration and hard work of the Foothill Nisenan of the Nevada City Rancheria, City of Nevada City, Forest Trails Alliance, American Rivers, and Sierra Streams Institute, and funding from the California Resources Agency River Parkways Program and the CalTrans Environmental Enhancement and Mitigation Program.

More: For more information, go to www.sierrafund.org/openingceremony